Missing Balloon Believed Down, Safe, In Ocean

NEW YORK (UPI)-The missing balloon Small World that left the Canary Islands Dec. 12 on a transatlantic aerial voyage today was believed to be down in the middle of the Atlantic ocean.

The balloon, with a specially designed gondola that could be converted into a sailboat if forced down, was manned by a crew of three men and one woman on its attempted free flight across the Atlantic.

Peter Elstob, the promoter of the aerial voyage, said he believed the balloon was forced to land in the Atlantic during a heavy rainstorm.

"Judging by the balloon's speed up until the time of last radio contact on Dec. 18, I would estimate that it went down just about in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean," Elstob told the United Press International today.

"That would put it about Indies," he said.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

As we approach the New Year . . . we always like to look to the future. We think that you will find many pleasant surprises in food packaging, preparation and presentation in 1959. As usual . . . we plan to be among the first to offer you the new products and new methods that will be coming your way. We're used to planning for the future. Already contracts have been signed that will insure Bon Air shoppers of the cream of new spring crops . . . fresh, frozen and canned. Fresh produce will in most cases come diect from grower so that we can present a higher quality for the same and even lower prices than other markets. Several large quantity buys have been established for delivery of prime beef and spring lamb. Again our guarantee to accept such a large amount of top quality meat allows us to sell on par with less tastier products. The future is the big thing every day at Bon Air. . . and if the future and progress mean better eating, simple preparation, easier shopping and savings for our customer, we're for it. So we'll all look forward to a bigger,

NEW YORK (A)-Stirredup fans attending yesterday's National Football League title game almost cost television viewers a chance to see the winning touchdown.

Onlookers pressing for a better view of the crucial overtime action jostled loose a connection on the TV power cable, and TV screens went blank for 21/2 minutes before an NBC engineer located the trouble.

Sound was lost for two minutes. At the time of the trouble, the Baltimore Colts were inside the New York Giants' 10-yard line and driving for the winning score in the 23-17 game.

"Fortunately, we missed none of the key action," an NBC spokesman said tonight. "There was time out on the field during much of our difficulty and it saved the day for our viewers." He emphasized that the time out was not called to accommodate the TV audience.

Transmission was restored in time to broadcast the winning touchdown.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!-Sometime after midnight on Wednesday, dazed celebrants all over Marin will sit down to what is quaintly called breakfast. It can happen anytime after midnight and usually has much more come-uppance than regular morning fare. In fact, the more savory, the more welcome. This is Beef Bretonne, which may well become a 1959 favorite. It's a classic.

Here's Real Hearty For Watch Parties

Let's welcome 1959 with a late New Year's Eve breakfast or even a New Year's Day Brunch. Beef Bretonne is the perfect do-ahead entree that simply needs reheating in your handsome chafing dish. We suggest that you serve it over deep frying pan or chicken noodles, accent it with spiced fryer; add cubed round steak; cherries. Then there's the all- brown on all sides. Add garlic important coffee - piping hot, and onions; cook until onions strong and lots of it!

After The Hullaballoo Is Over Someone Says, 'I'm Hungry!'

When the last squawk of the horn, the last clank of the cowbell fades into the distant wail of sirens, someone is sure to say, "I'm hungry!" At this point, Madame Hostess smiles (somewhat sleepily) and nonchalantly leads the way to the buffet where a turkey Stroganoff steams in the chaf-

Social Security Deduction Will Go Up On Thursday

Just about every family in Marin, and throughout the United States for that matter, will be affected one way or another by social security changes which go into effect Thursday.

About 74 million persons covered by social security, probably including you, and their employers will pay higher taxes. The 121/3 million men, women and children receiving old-age, survivors or disability payments will have them increased by an average of 7 per cent.

In the aggregate, increased benefits will total $700 million in 1959, with the first higher checks going out in February. The increase will be automatic. No one has to apply for the higher benefits. Payments to retired workers now ranging from $30 to $108.50 a month will rise to $33 to $116 a month.

In addition, Congress kept the federal share of public assistance payments to the blind and totally disabled at 50 per cent for California and other states whose per capita income is even with or higher than the national average, but upped the federal share for below-par states to a maximum of 65 per cent. It raised the maximum average assistance payment in which the federal government could share from $60 to $65.

And it raised grants to states for child welfare services, crippled children's services, and maternal and child health services. But it kept at $30 the maximum monthly payment to dependent children.

To pay for these higher benefits, Congress this year increased social security payroll taxes. At present an employee pays 21/4 per cent of his gross pay check to the government for social security on up to $4,200 total salary. And the employer pays the same amount.

Starting Thursday the deduction increased to 21/2 per cent for both the employee and employer, and the top limit moves up to $4,800.

For the self-employed, the increase is three-eights of one per cent to 3.5 per

That's not all. In 1960 the tax is scheduled to go up again, to 3 per cent for the employee and employer or 41/2 per cent for the self-employed. Further, the rate will jump one half of one per cent every three years threafter until

What the new increases mean to you in dollars and cents is this:

If this year you are paying the maximum rate, your tax will total $94.50. But next year, you'll be paying $120. And in 1969, the federal government will take $216 from you for the same purpose.

Next year's increased tax will bring in an extra 1.1 billion dollars. That's about 400 million dollars more than are needed for the increased benefits, but the remainder will be used to put the whole system on a sounder financial basis.

Now all we have to do is live long enough to benefit from it.

Already Fanny May has committed the full billion. When Congress returns next month efforts will be made to get another billion for Fanny May to buy mortgages in the low-priced field.

But last week there were indications the Eisenhower administration may try to block this as part of its economy

Last week Eisenhower an-

Such a budget reduction would require cutting some government programs, possibly eliminating others.

Heading off another billion for Fanny May to use seems a likely economy target for the administration.

Khrushchev Takes Tighter Rein On Soviet Government Top Spot

Premier Nikita Khrushchev He did it with gestures and is again busily at work consolidating his position at the top of the pyramid in the Kremlin. On the eve of the 21st Party Congress next month Khrushchev is gathering more power into his own hands.

This means that the Soviet regime is steadily moving away from "collective leadership," which Khrushchev used to praise so highly, and back into the "cult of the individual," which Khrushchev condemned so strongly when he found it useful to downgrade the dead Stalin.

He evidently believes that the time is ripe - or at least that it will never be better than now - to put his opponents to rout and make things even more secure for himself.

IT WAS AT the 20th Congress of the CPSU that Khrushchev did battle posthumously with the image of Stalin, branded him very uncomradely because he killed so many colleagues and declared that the "cult of the individual" would never again be allowed to fasten itself on the Soviet government.

Except for the habit of peremptory execution, Khrushchev will, by the time the 21st Congress convenes, have come very near to taking the Kremlin back full-cycle to the Stalin-type one-man rule.

Khrushchev's decisions will not be debatable and here are some of the latest actions he has taken to make it that way:

1 - HE ARRANGED for the Communist Party Central Committee to vote unanimous condemnation of all the Soviet leaders whom Khrushchev has demoted — this to make sure they have been pushed far enough into disgrace so they can exert no influence and are no threat to anybody.

2 - Premier Khrushchev or some lesser influence, like the security police, persuaded former Premier Bulganin that he could save himself from a fate worse than whatever his fate is going to be if he would put on the "confession act." groveling promises never to sin again. He referred to the "genius-like character of the Central Committee" and with a straight face confessed that "everything Comrade Khrushchev said" about him and others "in the antiparty group was true." 3 - Finally, Khrushchev has abruptly dismissed the Soviet security chief, Ivan Serov, who succeeded the late Lavrenti Beria. Beria was executed after Stalin was no longer around to use him or to protect him.

THE FACT IS that the top security job in the Soviet Union has never had job security. Serov had seven predecessors and it is not certain that any of them died a natural death.

In his interviews with distinguished American visitors in recent weeks Khrushchev has seemed to go out of his way to deride the associates he has demoted and he has been particularly condescending toward Bulganin. But Khrushchev prides himself that there have been no blood purges, no executions, since he has been Premier.

But where is former Premier Georgi Malenkov? We haven't heard of him or from him for a long time. Has something happened?

Vandals Ruin Engine

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) - The old steam locomotive donated to the city of Buffalo in 1954 by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad as an "educational exhibit" is winding up on the wrong side of the tracks.

The railroading veteran was given a shiny coat of black paint and its brass was gleaming when it was placed on permanent exhibition in La Salle Park. But, the city fathers didn't figure on the hoodlum element.

The locomotive has been dismantled piece by piece over the months - even a fence didn't protect it - until it's become an eyesore. Officials indicate it soon will be consigned to the scrap heap.

Life-Long Republican Now Suggests As How Democrats Can Outdo GOP SACRAMENTO (CNS) - tion of state government could in seven.

HENRY MacARTHUR

Some reasonably pertinent ob- easily come up with an exact servations on state government were made recently by a life-long Republican, a man known throughout California as one of the state's finest orators and most able attorneys. This is John Francis Neylan, 73, who has been connected in one way or another with state government for many

NEYLAN, IN an open letter to Bert W. Levit, newly appointed state director of finance, criticized the activities of the Republican party since the regime of former Gov. Culbert L. Olson was unseated and suggested: "Why not inaugurate a new era of honesty and responsibility in government in California, by five simple steps? "1. HAVE AN HONEST statement of the condition of the state treasury. "2. Inaugurate an honest work day and work week for the army of more than 70,000 on the state political payroll. "3. Eliminate approximately 10,000 excess jobholders. "4. If any additional economy is necessary, reduce the salaries of about 40,000 of the political brethren, who are getting more than they could ever earn in private life, and use these savings for the small number of increases based on merit. "5. Eliminate the unnecessary limousines."

TAXPAYERS ALL over the state will echo some of the sentiments, at least, outlined by Neylan.

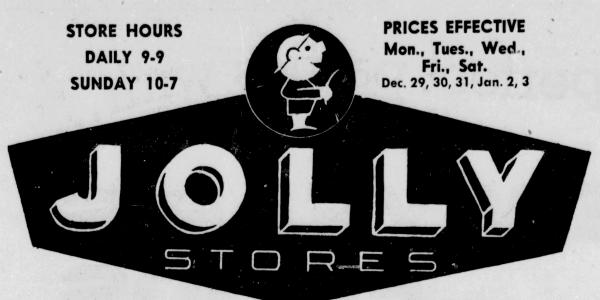

Particularly those in connection with an honest work day and honest work week for state employees, and the elimination of approximately 10,-000 excess job-holders. Where he obtains his figures of 10,000 is not very clear but it is a known fact that state departmental payrolls are loaded with too much help. It is not too bad a guess to say that one in seven employees on the payroll could be eliminated. However, a sound survey by

Teen-Age Girl Saves Man From Flames

STRATFORD, Conn. (A) Fifteen - year - old Alida Pettit couldn't accept the gift. Not from the church. Not from anybody. Not while Hermon Simmons lay in a hospital with his body covered with burns.

The gift was from the First Baptist Church. The congregation directed its pastor, Rev. William O. Johnson, to present Alida with $56 yesterday. She was to buy a new coat with the money

"I don't need a new coat. I don't want a new coat," she

Alida, a 95-pound high school sophomore, leaped from her mother's car Saturday when Simmons' garbage truck overturned and burst into flames. She tugged at the 200-pound Simmons and helped him escape through a broken window. Then she took off her coat, a Christmas present, and smothered the flames covering his

The 36-year-old driver is in critical condition, burned over almost 60 per cent of his body.

When she was asked how she came to run to Simmons' aid, Alida said: "He was screaming. I knew I couldn't let him die."

She and her father, Wilbur Pettit, asked the pastor to give the money to Simmons for hospital expenses.

Rev. Johnson said the church had already directed other funds for the Simmons family. Simmons is secretary of the church's board of deacons.

Alida finally took the $56. Then she donated it to the Herman Simmons Fund of the First Baptist Church.

"There is really nothing wrong with my coat," she said.
